

In the following question we will ask you for your views on future economic growth. For your reference, the following chart shows the mean annual growth rates of world GDP per capita by decade over the past century.

Source: Maddison Project Database 2020: 1920-2018

If you want to look at a larger version of the graph you can click here (opens in new window).

The mean annual growth rate over the full period was 2.31%.